REMARKS.

The cultivation of Ornamental Trees and Shrubs is rapidly increasing, and with the increasing taste, a desire to possess a greater variety than has usually been enumerated in catalogues in this country. The publication of that magnificent work, the Arboretum Britannicum, by the late Mr. Loudon, has made known a vast number of trees and shrubs, which, through the exertions of foreign collectors, have been introduced into Great Britain and the Continent and have already added so much to the embellishment of their gardens and grounds. A great portion of these being perfectly hardy, their introduction into our gardens is an object of great importance; for although our country is rich in hardy trees and shrubs, many of which are but little known, there are many among the numerous seedlings of recent origin, which rank among the most beautiful of Ornamental Trees. To introduce them into our collections, no pains or expense have been spared; a personal inspection of some of the most noted arboretums in England, Scotland and France, as well as the most extensive commercial establishments, has enabled us to select the most beautiful and desirable kinds, and has also enabled us to effect a correspondence, by which every thing new and rare, hereafter introduced, will be received as soon as it is offered for sale.

The annexed prices for trees are for those of fair size for transplantation and removal, with the exception of new and rare kinds, which are small. Trees of extra size of many kinds can be supplied, for which extra prices will be charged.

The proper seasons for transplanting trees are March, April and May, in the Spring, and September, October and November, in the Autumn. For the South and West, the most favorable period for transportation is the Autumn, when trees may be forwarded to the most distant parts of the Union with entire success. Orders, to ensure a good selection, both as regards size and variety, should always be forwarded early, as many sorts are often exhausted before the season is half over. Bundles of trees or boxes of plants will be delivered in Boston free of expense, and shipped either direct, or by the way of New York, or forwarded by any of the Express Lines or Railroads to any part of the country.

All letters of enquiries, or application for Catalogues, to receive any attention, must be post paid.

☞ All orders for trees, from unknown correspondents, must be accompanied with a draft on Boston or New York, payable at sight, or within thirty or sixty days after the delivery of the trees. The fluctuations in exchange, and the expense and trouble of collecting bills at a distance, render it necessary for us to adopt this course.

Catalogues may be had at our Seed Store and Agricultural Warehouse, 7 Merchants Row, Boston, or on application by mail, (post paid.)

The Nurseries are situated on the Cambridge road to Mount Auburn, half a mile east of Harvard Colleges, and about two miles from Boston. Two large Conservatories and an extensive Green-house, each with span roofs, have been erected, which are filled with choice collections of Camellias, Roses, Pelargoniums, Ericas, Azaleas, and Miscellaneous Plants. All amateurs and lovers of plants are invited to visit the Nurseries. In the month of May, a splendid collection of Tulips will be in flower. In June, upwards of 800 varieties of hardy Roses. During the Autumn, an unrivalled collection of Perpetual, Bourbon, Bengal, Tea and Noisette Roses,—and in September, a magnificent collection of Dahlias. In the Conservatory, the Chrysanthemums will be in bloom in November.—the Camellias in January,—the Azaleas in February,—the Roses in March,—the Pelargoniums in April and May,—and the Japan lilies in June.

Omnibus coaches pass within a few rods of the Nursery every fifteen minutes during the day.

☞ A liberal discount will be made to the trade and to individuals purchasing large quantities of trees.

All orders should be directed to "Hovey & Co., Boston."

Catalogues of Vegetable and Agricultural Seeds, Fruit Trees, Flower Seeds, Dahlias, Bulbous Roots, Forest Trees, and Ornamental Shrubs, Roses, Green-house Plants, &c., may be had separately.

ORNAMENTAL TREES.

For the information of those unacquainted with trees, we have divided the following into three classes, the first of which (1,) includes only those which attain the largest size; the second (2,) those of medium size; and the third (3,) those which are of slow growth, or which do not attain a size much above the largest shrubs. The latter are best adapted for lawns and pleasure grounds.

The prices are for trees of moderate size, suitable for transplanting; those of extra size will be charged higher, and those of smaller size will be furnished at considerably lower prices by the quantity.

A few marked with a star (*,) are considered rather tender in the latitude of Boston.

EVERGREEN SHRUBS.

The number of hardy evergreen shrubs is very limited, and our list contains all the most desirable. The Rhododendrons and Laurels are hardy, and so splendid that they should be found in every garden. Those marked with a star (*,) require protection in the latitude of Boston.

In addition to the great variety of trees and shrubs here enumerated, a large number of new and beautiful kinds have been selected in Europe, which are now in course of cultivation, but which have not been sufficiently increased to allow of their insertion in the present Catalogue. In the next edition they will be added; in the mean time, such of them as may be of sufficient size for safe transplantation, will be furnished to those who may be desirous of adding new trees and shrubs to their collections. Several shrubs which are hardy, but which are so often cultivated in the green-house, are not included in this Catalogue, but they will be found in the Catalogue of Plants. Among them are the Tree Pæonies, of which some superb new varieties have lately been produced.

HARDY AZALEAS.

No class of hardy plants will excel in beauty the new hybrid azaleas, which have now become so numerous, through the exertions of the English and Belgian cultivators. They are quite hardy, free flowering, and succeed well in any good soil. The following list embraces the very choicest kinds.

Nudiflora Nosegay	0 50	Viola odorata	1 00

In addition to these, numerous other fine kinds are under propagation, including the very best English, French, and Belgian seedlings to be found; and our correspondence is such, that any new and distinct seedlings will be immediately added to our collection. Possessing two or three acres of soil, upon which the common white azalea of New England formerly grew in the greatest luxuriance, we trust that we may be enabled to rear the new kinds in equal vigor.

HEDGE PLANTS.

American Arbor Vitæ (Thuja occidentalis)	per 100	$10 00 to 20 00
Washington Thorn (Cratægus cordata)	per 1000	10 00 to 20 00
Cockspur Thorn (Cratægus crus-galli)	per 1000	10 00 to 20 00
Buckthorn, a very fine hedge plant	per 1000	10 00 to 20 00
Yellow Locust (Robinia pseudacacia) a rapid grower	per 100	3 00 to 5 00
American Buffalo Berry (Shepherdia argentea)	per 100	5 00 to 10 00
American Privet	per 100	2 00 to 3 00
English Hornbeam, a fine hedge plant	per 100	2 00 to 3 00

Each of the above are well adapted for hedges. The American Arbor Vitæ grows rapidly, and forms a beautiful and verdant hedge or screen the year through, and may be cut into any shape. The Buckthorn is perhaps the best adapted for general purposes, being a rapid grower, transplanted with great certainty, and not liable to be attacked by insects. The Washington Thorn, makes a compact hedge. The English Hornbeam is also an excellent hedge plant, and is extensively used in England.
